

Dear Families,

It has been a privilege to preside over the 150th birthday celebrations this week. I have been struck by the affection and continuity the school has in the hearts of the community. From the dressing up, parents coming in, older pupils, the eldest being Rose at 85, thank you, and the generations of attendance it has been a marvellous time. The children have impressed us all with their learning, exemplary behaviour and singing which as always is joyful.

The school in 1865 and now rests on the work of local volunteers, none are more dedicated in making it successful than our Governors so I would like them to have the final word.

"This has been a wonderful week for the school, and as Governors we have been proud to be part of it. We have been to church services and special assemblies and open days and tea parties. We have met the Mayor and the MP and the Bishop - and of course the new Rector of Poplar. We have listened to excellent presentations and amazing singing and even used prayers and hymns that were used at the opening of the school 150 years ago. Huge congratulations are due to the children, to the Headteacher and all the staff. Poplar has a great history and so does St. Saviour's - and it has never been a better school than it is today. Here's to the next 150 years!"

*Have a lovely weekend,
Mrs Smith*
